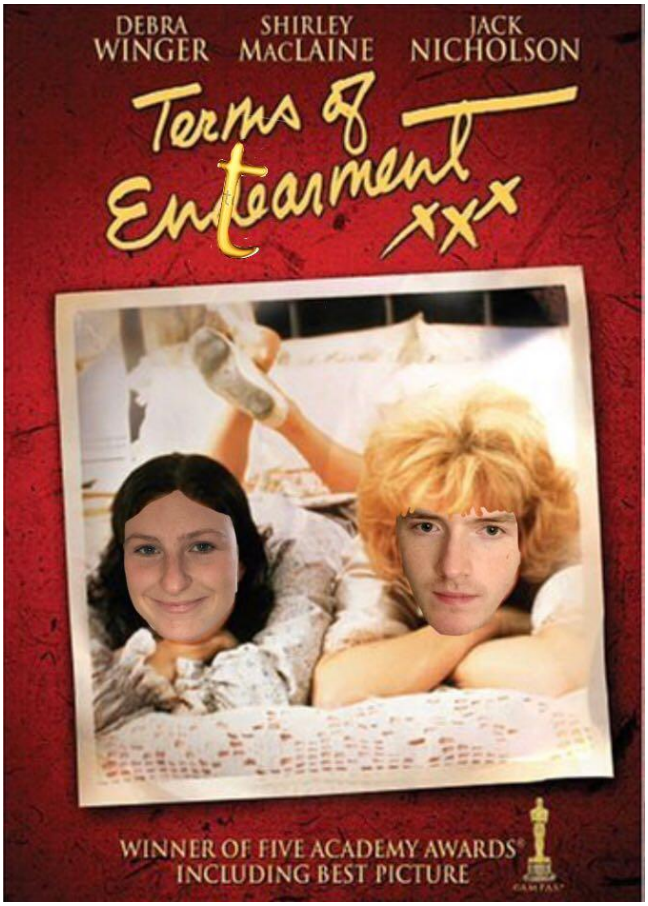
Amelia Miller and Peter Scharrer for Ents Officers



Oxford Dictionary defines 'fun' as:

1. Enjoyment, amusement, or light-hearted pleasure.
   'the first years used to have fun'
2. Attending an Ent organised by Amelia and Peter.
   'I thought I had fun on my gap year, but it was literal trash in comparison to that Ent last night'

So as you can see, we're pretty well-renowned, but what else makes us the perfect candidates?

ABOUT US

We are both fun-loving, outgoing people with a plethora of experience organising events, people, and things. Amelia has spent the last year as the Cambridge University Women's Lacrosse captain and Social Media Officer for Cambridge Uni Marketing Society, this means she knows how to stay on top of a lot of admin and how to effectively promote events on social media. Peter has spent the last year as operations officer on the JCR Bar Committee, Social Media Manager of Hack Cambridge, and as the services officer on the JCR. He lives for admin, knows how to handle college bureaucracy, and has strong links with well-loved Cambridge clubs.

Our Plans

- Expand the horizon of Downing Ents by holding some 'Wholesome Ents'.
  - It's not all about VKs and balloons!
- Host joint Ents with other colleges in an attempt to break out of the 'Downing Bubble'.
- Hold a referendum on whether to rename Ents to Bops.
- Hold an Ent involving a bar extension, so you can party until the early hours of morning in the comfort of your own college bar.
- Hold an Ent to honour one of the country's greatest annual events, the GBBO final.
- Look to hold private afterparties in Cambridge clubs on select Ent nights.
